

FOUNDER & CEO

Doctor Ahmad Yar Sukhera (Gold Medalist)

Dr. Sukhera, the visionary Founder and CEO of Qarora.ai, is an esteemed figure known for combining his deep knowledge of comparative medical sciences with modern technology. His early works, including the book Cardiac Spirituality—launched by Pakistan's renowned scientist Dr. A.Q. Khan—along with 6000 Years History of Urinalysis and Urine Color Chart and Urology in Canon, published by Hamdard University, explore the diagnostic significance of urine parameters in early disease detection and pay tribute to the ancient art of urinalysis. These foundational texts, along with his creation of the Avicenna MUST Chart, underscore his dedication to bridging historical wisdom with cutting-edge medical diagnostics. Dr. Sukhera's innovative contributions have earned him numerous awards, including victories at the Emerging Scientist Season II, National Project Competition, HUPEC, and three DICE USA competitions. Through Qarora.ai, Dr. Sukhera is leading efforts to make advanced, AI-powered diagnostic tools globally accessible, positioning the company as a leader in preventive health technology.
